

"Too Tired to Fight" ©

By: Greg Wasinski

When you're too tired to fight...
I am here with a reserve of strength to pick you up and carry you when the journey is at its toughest.

When you're too tired to fight...
Relax just long enough and allow the gentleness of My touch to softly embrace you and My presence shall not go unnoticed.

When you're too tired to fight...
I will send My Spirit
to surround you with love
in all those that hold you dear.

When you're too tired to fight...
I shall turn your tears into
"living" water, so that they fall upon your cheeks with grace and bless the world around you.

When you're too tired to fight...
Remember that I knew you
long before your birth.
Your everyday example is My plan for you.

"Too Tired to Fight" ©

By: Greg Wasinski

For it was I who once was too tired to fight...

But that night in the garden
it was MY father's hands that held ME as I sobbed.

I was once too tired to fight...

When the road was long, the cross heavy,
the thorns penetrating and the whip marks throbbing,
but I endured for you.

I was once too tired to fight...

And you were in My heart
as I bowed My head one last time taking with me all your sin and pain.

Hand in hand we will fight this latest fight...

It is together that all will be revealed
and we shall overcome this battle too, because I live in you and My love is never ending.

WITH LOVE,
JESUS

